What the Liaison Does

The University Liaison is responsible for the development and implementation of programs to support and assist CU students living off campus. The liaison coordinates, organizes and facilitates a variety of public events in the neighborhoods and business districts near campus. The liaison also coordinates and facilitates communication, and acts as a liaison between CU, the city and the community regarding CU student issues in neighborhoods adjacent to CU.

Town/Gown Relationship

The city and CU are both committed to maintaining a positive working relationship. To this end, representatives from both organizations plan to meet several times a year to analyze issues affecting the community and to update and develop efforts to address student behavioral impacts on Boulder. In particular, the city, University and student government representatives are working on strategies to promote safety and civic responsibility among college-aged students. These include targeted communication messages to students and parents, special events, education programs, alternative and/or stricter penalties for quality of life violations and consistent enforcement activities for code compliance.
